This is an announcement regarding the Greater Seattle Intergroup Office in Georgetown. Since 1947, there has been an A.A. Intergroup office supporting A.A.'s Primary Purpose in Seattle, and that office has been in Georgetown for the last 25 years. Unfortunately, the building that houses the office has been purchased and is scheduled for demolition, and Intergroup needs to find a new home before that happens.

Greater Seattle Intergroup supports A.A. meetings from Auburn to Lynnwood. This support includes:

- Supplying meetings with A.A. literature;
- Maintaining a 24-hour hotline for anyone looking for a meeting and, if needed, a list of individuals available for a Twelfth Step visit;
- Keeping the Intergroup website up to date;
- Coordinating efforts to carry the A.A. message to prisons and other correctional institutions;
- Organizing A.A. members to carry the message of recovery to hospitals, treatment centers, and rehabilitation facilities;
- Providing information and answering questions about Alcoholics Anonymous to the public and professional organizations;
- Providing resources to overcome obstacles that limit access to meetings, including providing transportation, arranging for meetings at homes or retirement communities, and providing language services such as non-English meetings or sign-language services;
- Intergroup's phone number is the only number in Seattle a person or organization can call if they want to know more about A.A.

If you would like to know more about the move and what you can do to help, I have more details that you can pick up after the meeting.
